

Pros: Housing groups represent a unique viewpoint that is not adequately represented by a single department representative. Housing representatives are elected annually, so there will always be a representative to attend Assembly so that obtaining quorum is not a problem.